OUR PROVINCE.

Political, Social and Commercial Status of Its People.

Had the few who were specially interested in the introduction of Coolie labor realized the fearful responsibilities of their actions, they would have made common cause with the injured, and have prevented the committal of such a social and political crime. There is no doubt but trades people, and others more directly influenced by wealthy employers of labor, gave every encouragement to the movement without fully realizing the result of their conduct. By lowering the price of labor they lessened the purchasing capacity of their own special customers, as the earnings of Chinese labor were expended chiefly amongst their own merchants, and their savings from labor exported to China, or otherwise withdrawn from circulation. If the preference had been given to white labor, as was the case in the Northwest, both savings and cost of subsistence would have been expended in the province, and trade everywhere would have increased fourfold. The more frugal of railway employees would have dropped out along the line, and either from force of competition with their own class, or superior intelligence, would have initiated new forms of development where inducements offered better advantages. Whether the result of political blundering, or greedy design, it matters not now, since the crime has been committed, it is only meet that the responsibility should be placed where it rightly belongs and to avoid in a measure the evil results which must follow the entry of such a number of people of a different race, who, from the very nature of their surroundings, must be a source of danger, owing to the antagonistic feelings which must exist between them and the people among whom they are thrown to live. We do not, however, wish to be understood as advocating the adoption of any hasty or ill-considered measures, such as the wholesale expulsion of the Chinese, which in ignorance of fact is being exhibited towards them. As individuals they have the same right as any other race and class of labor. To restrict them from entering a country simply because they are Chinese is illegal and unconstitutional. To deny them the right of selling their labor at such prices as their services demand is an interference with the principles which govern the laws of supply and demand. But to encourage them and show for them a preference to our own race, inimical to the best interests of the country, is an unpardonable crime, for which those who favor them must be held responsible. The duty of relieving the country of such a fearful blight devolves on labor, as well as capital. A spirit and determination on the part of white labor to act reciprocally with capital must be cultivated and enforced. Drunkenness and laxity of principles so prevalent in labor circles must be replaced by self-esteem, until employers of labor, acting in harmony with employees, will join in the common work of reform, and restore that feeling of confidence which has been so ruthlessly broken by greed on the one hand and too much independence on the other. Improved methods of exchange and cheap lines of transit place new or undeveloped countries at a great disadvantage, inasmuch as they are consumers instead of producers. The rate of interest on money being higher, added to increased price for commodities, enhances the value of labor and renders competition with foreign manufacturers a difficult and embarrassing problem. Another drawback is that of an insufficient of industries to maintain a resident population sufficient to create a healthy competition in every department of trade and labor, without as now glutting the market with one special class to the injury of another more beneficial to the country at large and conducive to happiness generally. Human beings reduced to the lowest grade of poverty and starvation are no benefit to any country nor to any special class, except politicians, who pander to their grievance or their passions as occasion serves them best, caring but little for the result so that they are vested with power to rule and deceive the dupes who elect them. Without doubt there are grievances everywhere, but it would be difficulty to find a place in any part of the world where the people have been so easily fooled and misgoverned. The last Provincial Parliament acquired the title of "the Parliament of convenience" so singularly true that of the five lawyers elected, each represented and shepherded a bill in the interests of individual rather than of collective rights. Such members as were not elected on the Chinese Bluff Question pandered to some other prejudice equally insincere and absurd. Of course these remarks are not leveled at the honesty and patriotism of those who, although, blinded by the sophistries of others acted as they thought conscientiously and right. Neither will they apply to any member of this or any other former government who is capable of justifying his acts by subsequent results. Increased powers of representation require increased intelligence on the part of the people, so that equity can replace force and wisdom rice. Better by far to be governed by the intelligence of an autocratic and virtuous few, than to suffer from evils inflicted on us by prejudice and ignorance. The people having the power should exercise it with moderation towards the weak and rigorously enforce the provisions of equity against the unscrupulousness of the strong. There are no evils but education will decrease and no wrongs but a strong love of justice will perfect.

SIGMA.

A Winnipegger on the Pacific.

The Winnipeg News of the 23rd says: Mr. E. Cooke, who left Winnipeg a few weeks ago for British Columbia, writes a very interesting letter to a friend here, from Victoria. He states that the old residents there look with a jealous eye upon the advent of new comers, preferring to live alone in their own quiet way than have their province developed by new settlers. This feeling is specially strong against Winnipeggers, probably on account of their enterprising dispositions. One old gentleman whom Mr. Cooke asked to treat out of his reserve quite freely till the latter made a remark about Winnipeg, when the old gentleman ejaculated, "Oh, the d——l, good evening sir." But notwithstanding the peculiarities of the place in this respect, Mr. C. is pleased with what he has seen of the Pacific Province, although he thinks it is a poor place for workmen to go at present. The climate is delightful, and the way he talks of trees loaded with fruit is quite sufficient to arouse a jealous feeling in the breast of the average resident of the prairies of Manitoba.

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION

Sir Charles Tupper and Party Visit the Grounds.

Officers for Next Year—Delightful Weather.

Special to THE TIMES.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 2.—The judges have just finished their work, and the cards indicating the prize-winners have been placed on the articles.

At 9 o'clock this morning, Sir Charles Tupper and party visited the grounds, accompanied by the Hon. Messrs. Smithe and Trutch. A pressing telegram sent to him yesterday, drew his consent to visit the city. An address was read and replied to in a characteristic, eulogistic speech, in which Sir Charles said that the exhibition, though not so extensive as those in the east, excelled in roots, vegetables and fruits. He begged the exhibitors to send an extensive display to London next year. The party remained but one hour.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting yesterday: President, N. Shakespeare, M. P.; Vice-Presidents, W. H. Ladner and Stephen Sandover; Secretary, Thos. Russell; Treasurer, William Dalby; Directors, E. Greyell, A. C. Wells, A. James, Geo. Blackie, Hugh Boyd, J. Shopland, D. W. Higgins, Jas. Tolmie, William Thompson, J. D. Bryant and E. C. Renouf.

The weather is very fine but the attendance is not large.

CARIBOO CLIPPINGS.

The Great Picnic—The Sittings of Assize.

Hospital Matters—Honorable Judge Walkem—&c.

Extensive preparations were made by a few of our leading citizens for a grand public picnic, to take place on the Meadows on the 8th inst. An interesting programme of sports was prepared and a gala day anticipated. Unfortunately no arrangements had been made with the weather prophet, and the games had only fairly been entered upon, when the rain began to descend, first in drizzling showers and finally wound up with a miniature hurricane, when all were compelled to betake themselves to their houses. Of the contests carried out, prize-winners were: Ladies race, horseback, Miss Mary Michaels; men's foot race, backwards, Mr. W. S. Bannerman; men's flat foot race, Mr. Marsden; potatoe race, Mr. McIvoy; standing jump, Mr. Flynn; girls, over ten, foot race, Miss Katie Brown; girls' race, under ten, Lizzie Brown. The clouds lifted towards evening, and everything augured well for the social hop to take place in the theater. The ball-room was well filled and a very pleasant time was passed until midnight. Much of the success and pleasure of the day was due to the untiring efforts of our stranger friends, Messrs. Bowman, Tuck and party, who bear away with them the highest esteem of our citizens.

At the fall assize, before Mr. Justice Walkem, there were no civil suits. The Crown vs. a Chinaman, was for larceny. The Chinaman will take a few months' residence in the government boarding house.

Mr. Walkem's unofficial stay in Cariboo was a very pleasant affair both to that gentleman himself and to his old-time constituents. The intense personal interest, respect and affection entertained towards him throughout this district is something marvellous and unexampled perhaps anywhere. His visit is likened to that of the victor in many a gallant conflict among his disbanded troops. Mrs. Walkem did Cariboo the grace to accompany the Justice on this circuit. A reception was held at the residence of Mr. Bowron, government agent. Mrs. Walkem is said to be a brilliant, spirited and original conversationalist and to quite equal her husband in his characteristic vivacity and sympathetic magnetism, and one can easily believe so, judging from the airy tread and the many beaming countenances that luminated our streets that afternoon. Possibly it may never have occurred to him, but deeply hidden in the average Cariboo[illegible] breast there is a latent hope that Mr. Walkem may yet sound the reveille and again lead his old warriors to victory. Should this chance he would now enter the contest doubly armed.

During the sittings of the court the Deputy Attorney General, a sociable pleasant gentleman was in Barkerville:

"A quasi-official, a politico-judicial,
A fast-here-the-wind-blows young man."

Our first snow storm was on the 9th inst. It will perhaps seem incredible that individual flakes measured fully three inches in diameter. The fall freshet is over and hydraulic claims are again booming.

The Nason Co., Antler Creek, have had another set-back, but we understand not serious.

On the 19th inst. a public meeting was held in the Theatre Royal for the purpose of considering hospital affairs. A difference of opinion seemed to exist between a portion of the board and the public as to the arrangements made at the late annual meeting, in regard to the calling of another public meeting. A full and free discussion took place, and it was the almost unanimous sense of the meeting that the money would be thrown away in repairs of the present rotten, dilapidated building, and that as the present [illegible] entirely by private liberality, the State could not in reason or honor refuse means for its renewal. The representative director of a town not 100 miles from B. seemed to have "the git up in him," and finally exploded in "ways that are dark." We would now suggest him another refrain: "A trick that was vain."

Better Prospects.

The iron industry of Gloucestershire, England, which has been almost paralyzed in sympathy with the general depression in trade, is now reviving. The men are working full time and many extra furnaces, which were idle for months, are to fire. The revival is caused chiefly by foreign orders.

ACROSS THE OCEAN.

The Servian Finances.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 1—Servian government has 80,000 men under arms. It is feared that the King must attempt a coup de main before the conference is concluded, because the finances of the country are unable to stand the present heavy drain. The people of Greece are sending petitions to King George, asking him to pursue a vigorous policy in connection with the Roumelian revolution.

Servians Want Macedonia.

Special to THE TIMES.

NISSA, Oct. 2.—A meeting of the Skuptschina yesterday has resulted in Servia demanding an extension of territory. The populace are clamoring for the annexation of Macedonia. It is probable owing to the large army which Servia has in the field that she will speedily seize contiguous territory, thus making more difficult the solution of the Balkan question.

Prince Alexander's Popularity.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A dispatch from Berlin says it is understood in diplomatic circles there that Austria is secretly supporting Servia. According to advices from Philippopolis the report that Russia wishes to dethrone Prince Alexander has greatly angered the Roumelians. The Prince, it is said, was never so popular as he is now. Dispatches received in Vienna say that everything is ready for the entrance of the King of Servia into Old Servia on the eighth instant.

Bismarck Giving Advice.

Special to THE TIMES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2—The Sultan is receiving counsel from Prince Bismarck respecting the Roumelian question, and probably he will adopt a policy in harmony with the German chancellor's suggestion.

Roumania Wants to be Neutral.

Special to THE TIMES.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 2—The King of Roumania has declared that he has not formed an alliance with either Greece or Servia, and that Roumania only seeks a neutral position in the event of the Roumelian question resulting in war.

Helping Servia with Money.

Special to THE TIMES.

VIENNA, Oct. 2—The Vienna bank received full sanction from the Imperial Foreign Office before granting the Servian loan.

Riel's Case in England.

GENERAL DESPATCHES.

Fatal Explosion.

Special to THE TIMES.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 2.—A battery of boilers in Clark & Co.'s Solar Iron Works exploded this morning, shortly after 3 o'clock, injuring seventeen, three fatally.

The night turn had just been relieved by the day force when a loud explosion started the workmen, and that portion of the works in the vicinity of the boilers filled with a cloud of death dealing steam. Through the dense mist came the shrieks and groans, which notified the employees beyond harm's reach that a frightful calamity had overtaken a portion of their fellow workmen. As soon as the steam settled down, a rush was made for the spot where the explosion occurred, when it was ascertained that a mud drum of boilers had exploded, and that escaping steam had scalded seventeen men. A closer investigation showed that of this number fourteen are badly burned and that they are fatally scalded. Almost immediately afterwards the frenzied frightened wives, mothers and children began to rush upon the scene and peer anxiously into the faces of the dying men, seeking to identify their loved ones, or inquiring in agonized tones if they had escaped. Women half dressed, others putting on their clothing as they ran, children almost nude and screaming at the top of their voices, crowded and jostled each other in a rush for the mill. Arriving there, there was a silence for a moment, and then a woman's wail was heard, and another, until there was nothing but a discordant chorus of shrieks and moans and cries of anguish. It was an awful scene. Physicians, who arrived, said they were almost unnerved at the sight, and in the presence of so much human suffering, physical and mental. The injured were found lying in all positions; some of them were so far away from the battery that it seemed impossible they could be injured by the explosion. Fully one half of the number bust were boys. It is stated that the engines were tested and pronounced safe less than a month ago.

The Sugar Crop.

Special to THE TIMES.

HAVANNA, Oct. 1.—On Friday at a sugar plantation at Aurora, near Jovenellos, four workmen who had taken refuge from the rain under a cart, were struck by lightning and killed.

The prospects for a large sugar crop next year have been further improved by copious rain.

Communication Re-established.

Special to THE TIMES.

MEXICO, via Galveston, Oct. 1—The mail communication between this city and the United States was resumed to-day. Nine days accumulation of mails has been distributed this afternoon. The Central railway has been repaired at the place where the track was washed away by the bursting of the reservoir.

A South American Rebellion.

Special to THE TIMES.

LIMA, via Galveston, Oct. 1.—Advices from Piano state that the Montenieros occupying Ica, numbered 2000. The coasts fell into their hands after an hour's fighting. The celebrated Montero Patchere was taken prisoner.

An ex-Governor in State Prison.

Special to THE TIMES.

BOSTON, Oct. 1—Franklin J. Moses, ex-Governor of South Carolina, was to-day sentenced to three years imprisonment in the state prison for obtaining money under false pretences.

An Important Suspension.

Special to THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The suspension of Heath & Co. has just been announced on the Stock Exchange.

A RIFL RIOT.

Sir John A. Macdonald is Asked if he Will Hang Riel.

Special to THE TIMES.

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Reports from Bell's Corners, which is about ten miles from this city, in the county of Carleton, which is represented by Sir John A. Macdonald, says that this afternoon, while a fair was in progress, a number of men who had been drinking got into a dispute and a fight ensued. In a short time one hundred and fifty men became engaged in the combat. Stones flew in all directions and men were seen hurrying away with bleeding heads. A number of persons were severely but not fatally injured. The cause of the quarrel was a discussion as to whether or not Riel should suffer death. After the disturbance had been quelled one of those engaged in the fight went up to Sir John A. Macdonald and said: "Are you going to hang Riel." A number of bystanders shoved the man away, when Sir John said, "I am not a hangman."

The Small-Pox Sisters.

Special to THE TIMES.

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—There have been no disturbances to-day and no trouble is feared to-night. Mayor Beaugrand stated to-day that he would not relax his efforts to keep the peace, and would have the military under arms so long as there was any probability of trouble. Fourteen sanitary police, well armed with revolvers, turn out every night to guard their office in the City Hall. Chief Pacodis was at his office to-day. There are one or two cases of small-pox in Longueuil, but the disease has been confined to the house in which it first appeared. A man named Bruneau, dressed only in his shirt, suffering from the disease, jumped out of the window of his house this morning and ran into the central police station, under the impression that some one was going to kill him. A policeman caught him and returned him to his home.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—Owing no doubt to the very excellent precautions taken by the Mayor, the city last night was quiet, and the streets almost deserted. There are three companies of garrison artillery under arms at the Exhibition Buildings, with troops of cavalry doing patrol duty outside. There were one hundred constables on hand at the Central Police Station, but their services not being required they were sent home at 10 o'clock. There were also volunteers on guard at the various armories. The Chairman of the Board of Health stated last night that many had been arrested at the instance of Hon. Louis Beaubien for taking forcible possession of the Exhibition grounds for a small-pox hospital.

A Salvation Raid.

Special to THE TIMES.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 1.—The officers of the Salvation Army of Scranton, who were arrested yesterday, had a hearing this afternoon. They were fined $3 for obstructing the highway, and as they refused to pay were sent to jail for six hours. A howling mob surrounded the prison and endeavored to tear it down. The whole police force was rallied out, and with difficulty saved the building and dispersed the crowd. The salvationists were released this evening and paraded the town with nearly a thousand followers.

A Train Robbed.

Special to THE TIMES.

LEREDO, TEX., Oct. 2.—Norris & Co., among the largest dry goods dealers of New Laredo, undertook to transport a large quantity of goods shipped to them in bond from Piedras by negroes to New Laredo. On Wednesday they found the teamsters belonging to the transportation securely bound to trees, thirty miles from New Laredo, while most of the valuable portion of their goods had been carried away by the robbers.

Not Guilty.

Special to THE TIMES.

WELLAND, Oct. 1.—The suit of the U. S. Express Co. against "Clutch" Donoghue, to recover $20,000 alleged to have been taken from the company's office in Susquehanna, Pa., by Donoghue and a confederate, ended in a verdict for the defendant.

A Juvenile Highwayman.

Special to THE TIMES.

DALLAS, TEXAS, Oct. 2.—A stage from San Angelo to Abilene was attacked by a smooth-faced boy, 13 years of age, carrying a Winchester rifle. He took possession of the mail bags, and rifled them and rode off unmolested. There were six passengers in the coach.

FARWELL NOTES.

The Gov.-Genl's Visit—Frauds and Gamblers—Mining.

The death of Mr. W. Power has been keenly felt by the citizens of Farwell. Mr. Power, although but a short time among them, had made himself a place in the hearts of many, and he died deeply regretted by all who knew him, and most of all by those who knew him well.

Preparations are being made on quite an extensive scale for the Governor-General's visit to Farwell. The Governor-General and suite will arrive in that place on the 9th inst., and will be there over night, leaving for the west the following day.

Mr. Edward Coubes, C. E., lately doing business in Victoria, has been victimizing the citizens of Farwell. After securing time cheques, borrowed money, supplies, etc., he started for Uncle Sam's domain, where we hope he will remain. Canada is well rid of such characters.

A number of gamblers having received notice to leave town within twenty-four hours, have folded their tents like the Arabs and as quietly stolen away.

The Barrett outfit started for Big Bend on the 21st inst. The Dunn, Wright & Co's outfit, on the 22nd, started for the same place. They will both round the [illegible]

The rain, which has fallen almost incessantly for two weeks, has caused two bridges to give way and many mud slides on the C. P. R. line, delaying the contractors very much. G.

Nearly an Accident.

There was very nearly being an accident in the harbor last evening, which might have had a fatal termination for some of those involved. Capt. O'Brien of the Alden House, with his wife, and one or two young people, were crossing the harbor in a small boat when a passing steamer came in such close proximity that a collision at one time seemed imminent. The ladies were greatly frightened, and for some hours after had not recovered from the nervous shock received.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

THE new Brazilian ministry was struck by a vote of want of confidence as soon as the members entered the chambers, owing to their indisposition to push the slave liberation bill.

LAWRENCE FINNEGAN, an Irishman, was caught by a policeman in Baltimore cutting off the tail of one of the colossal lions on Calvert street because the statue reminded him of the British lion.

ACCORDING to a French blue book recently issued the Tonquin war has cost France 15,000 lives and about $200,000,000. What she has gained in return for this expenditure seems to be one of those things that no fellow can find out.

RIEL's counsel are now finding a deal of difficulty in raising funds to enable them to carry the case to England. The sympathy of RIEL's friends is exhibited by holding public meetings and passing threatening resolutions which they promise to carry into effect if the rebel leader is hanged. But when it comes to putting their hands in their pockets their friendship weakens. An appeal has been made to the government for aid, as it is held that an important constitutional question is involved which affects the whole Dominion.

AT a preliminary examination of WILLIAM KYLE, a Toronto liquor dealer, charged with forgery, WM. COOKE, Manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, deposed that the bank held $53,000 of KYLE & Co's paper, $47,000 of which was worthless. MR. MCCUAIG, accountant, testified that KYLE & Co. struck a balance on January 1, which showed the firm to be worth only $250, yet they had made returns indicating themselves to be worth $12,500. MR. DONOVAN, the firm's bookkeeper, testified that he knew of the forgeries ten months ago. KYLE was committed.

THURSDAY, at New Westminster, the leader of the government de facto—the Hon. JOHN ROBSON—and the leader of the malcontents outside of the House—the editor of the Colonist,—were closeted together for several hours. It would be doing both gentlemen an injustice to assert that affairs of state, or the interests of the country, had anything to do with their secret deliberations. The necessities of the one and the aspirations of the other were conceded, and formed the foundation of a reconciliation and made a platform broad enough for the two conspirators to stand upon. But the compact is not likely to last until the House meets.

IT is generally believed that the Hon. MR. DUCK will not attempt the budget speech during the next session of the Legislature. He has at last discovered that the egg is addled, and that not even the efforts of the patent incubator for the government (the Provincial Secretary) will avail in warming it into life. However, the Duck is not only lame, but its wings are closely clipped, and it cannot even "flop" back again into the placid column of "independence." He will probably continue to enjoy the honors and emoluments of office, for a time, and relegate to Honest John the herculean task of harmonizing the predictions of the late with the realizations of the approaching session.

WE had just succeeded in completing in serial form, DR. WATT's voluminous contributions on the Barkerville School question, and were consoling ourselves that we had arrived at the end of the controversy, when another lengthy communication comes to hand. It will be impossible to find space for it in its present form, and it must before appearing be condensed into one-half its present compass. Our Barkerville friends must bear in mind that our space is too valuable to permit of a column or two being taken up every other day on a question which is at best largely of a personal, and altogether of a local character. What a pity the time and labor devoted to purely controversial discussions were not employed in collecting the news of the district, or in contributing articles of interest and of benefit to the whole province! If the letter-writers would only do that, their itch for writing would be gratified and they would at the same time be contributing to the knowledge of others, and advancing the interests of their particular localities.

YOUNG LIBERALS PLATFORM.

At the Young Liberal Convention in Toronto, the following resolutions were submitted, and after being fully discussed, were adopted in almost every instance with great unanimity. These resolutions constitute the platform of the new party, and as such we lay them before our readers: This convention condemns the franchise as lately passed by the Dominion Parliament, approves the principles that the franchise is a civil right that should be dealt with exclusively by the Provincial Legislature, that the preparation of electoral lists should be delegated to the municipal councils of the country, and recommends that in the province of Ontario the right of voting for Parliamentary representatives be conferred upon every male resident of the province of 21 years of age and upwards who is a British subject, and who is not a pauper, a lunatic, or a felon, proper restrictions being made as to residence and registration.

To secure the proper development of the trade and resources of the Dominion, the Canadian people should have full power to negotiate their own commercial treaties, and also the framing of their own extradition treaties.

That in the opinion of this Convention the attention of Canadian citizens should be earnestly directed to the very great increase that has been made during recent years in the customs taxation of the country, and to the fact that a large proportion of the money so taken from the people has been spent extravagantly and corruptly by the government, that we condemn as unjust the principles of laying oppressive taxes upon the many, solely for the benefit of a few, and maintain that the right to impose customs taxation should be limited to the necessities of government economically administered.

The Dominion Senate, as at present composed and constituted, is not consistent with the genius of the present age, is utterly useless as a legislative body, and has completely failed to realize the hopes or expectations of those who, at Confederation, believed that a second chamber composed entirely of life members, would prove a non-partisan body, which would prove a check upon hasty or imprudent legislation by the House of Commons. That this convention recommends that steps be at once taken—without interfering with the present proportionate representation of each province in that body—to reform or reconstruct the Senate in such a manner as to make it a representative or elective chamber.

The system of superannuation and granting of pensions to members of the Civil Service is attended with great abuses, and having due regard to existing rights should be entirely abolished.

Whereas the resources of the Dominion offer sufficient inducements to all desirable classes of immigrants; and, whereas the present policy of assisted immigration subjects our wage-earners to unfair competition, therefore be it resolved that the expenditure of public money in giving assisted passages should be discontinued.

Whereas the gross debt of Canada has been increased during the eighteen years since Confederation from less than $100,000,000 to nearly $300,000,000—an increase out of all proportion to the growth of population or the creation of wealth in the country; in the opinion of this convention there is no good reason why Canada, should, in time of peace, so rapidly enlarged her obligations, and so heavily mortgage the property and labor of the people. We therefore urge all patriotic Canadians to unite in demanding such a pure and economical administration of government as will prevent the increase of our debt, and decrease the present oppressive burdens upon the people.

In the opinion of this convention the legislation of a provincial legislature within the competence of that legislature should not be disallowed at the whim of the Dominion government, but should only be repeated by the voice of the people of the provinces affected as expressed at the polls. Therefore, resolved, that the British North American Act should be so amended as to more clearly define the respective functions of the Dominion Parliament and of the provincial legislations, and in case of future dispute between the two legislative bodies the decision should rest with the courts and not with the Governor General in Council.

That legislation by the Imperial Parliament be sought with the view of restoring to the Dominion the power possessed by the former province of Canada to alter or amend the constitution of the country.

That this convention disapproves of the payment of subsidies out of the Dominion treasury to the Provincial Legislatures, believing that the system of subsidies leads to extravagance on the part of the Provincial Legislatures, because they have the power of expending money without the responsibility of imposing taxes; also the subsidy system as carried out in Canada causes the bulk of the revenues to be collected by indirect taxation, whereas direct taxation is more just and more economical. Therefore, resolved that this convention approves of such a change in the British North America Act as shall provide that each province of the Confederation shall collect as well as expend its own revenues.

That the course of the Dominion government in neglecting or refusing and neglecting to take any steps towards obtaining a reciprocity treaty with the United States, and in surrendering to the Americans the free use of our valuable sea fisheries without compensation is censurable in the highest degree. This convention urges that it is in the interest of Canada that the largest possible measure of reciprocal trade should without delay be arranged with the United States.

That the notorious abuses in connection with the Civil Service of the Dominion are such as call for immediate action; that the annual expenditure upon the Civil Service is far beyond the requirements of the country; that the present system of examinations is farcical and useless, merit being wholly ignored; that a complete measure of Civil Service reform is necessary by which the expenditure may be reduced, the nepotism and favoritism practised by the present government rendered impossible, and the public service rendered independent of political parties. That this convention desires to place upon record its condemnation of the practice of importing men to fill positions in the public service which should and can be properly and efficiently filled by Canadians. That the creation of dual offices and the duplication of the salaries of public officials are abuses which call for immediate remedy.

That the judges of provincial courts should be appointed by provincial government.

THE new Revenue bill of Pennsylvania, which taxes mortgages, bonds, accounts bearing interest, notes, bank shares, etc., will bring over $1,000,000 into the treasury.

King Tye Company.

With reference to the special notice in to-day's Colonist signed King Tye & Co., I would beg to inform the trade and public generally that I was not, as stated, discharged from business connected with that firm.

In May, 1884, I became manager in this firm and up to yesterday, when I tendered my resignation. It is easy to see that all transactions made by me personally, or under my direction as representative of the firm, must be valid, and for which King Tye Co. are responsible.

The sole cause of my resignation was a disagreement with my only resident partner.

IN LUCK AT LAST

BY WALTER BESANT.

CHAPTER IV.

THE WOLF AT BOME.

There is a certain music hall, in a certain street, leading out of a certain road, and this is quite clear and definite enough. Its distinctive characteristics, above any of its fellows, is a vulgarity so profound that the connoisseur or student in that branch of mental culture thinks that here at last he has reached the lowest depths. For this reason one shrinks from actually naming it, because it might become fashionable, and then, if it locally tried to change its character to suit its changed audience, it might entirely lose its present charm and become simply commonplace.

Joe Gallop stood in the doorway of this hall a few days after the tampling of Mr. James. It was about ten o'clock, when the entertainments were in full blast. He had a cigarette between his lips, as becomes a young man of fashion, but it had gone out, and he was thinking of something. To judge from the cunning look in his eyes it was something not immediately connected with the good of his fellow creatures. Presently the music of the orchestra ceased, and certain female acrobats, who had been "contorting" themselves fearfully and horribly for a quarter of an hour upon the stage, kissed their hands, which were as hard as ropes, from the nature of their profession, and smiled a fond farewell. There was some applause, but not much, because neither man nor woman cares greatly for female acrobats, and the performers themselves are with difficulty persuaded to learn their art, and generally make haste to "go in" again as soon as they can, and try henceforward to forget that they have ever done things with ropes and bars.

Joe, when they left the stage, ceased his meditations, whatever may have been their subject, lit a fresh cigarette, and assumed an air of great expectation, as if something really worth seeing and hearing were now about to appear. And when the chairman brought down the hammer with the announcement that Miss Carlotta Claradine, the people's favorite, would now oblige, it was Joe who loudly led the way for a tumultuous burst of applause. Then the band, which at this establishment, and others like unto it, only plays two tunes, one for acrobats and one for singers, struck up the second air, and the people's favorite appeared. She may have had by nature a sweet and tuneful voice; perhaps it was in order to please her friends, the people, that she converted it into a harsh and rasping voice, that she delivered her words with even too much gesture, and that she uttered a kind of shriek at the beginning of every verse, which was not in the composer's original music, but was thrown in to compel attention. She was dressed with great simplicity, in plain frock, apron and white cap, to represent a fair young Quakeress, and she sang a song about her lover with much "archness"—a delightful quality in woman.

"Splendid, splendid! Bravo!" should Joseph at the end of the first verse. "That fetches 'em, don't it, sir? Positively drags 'em in, sir."

"Splendid! Bravo!" shouted Joseph. "That fetches 'em, don't it, sir."

He addressed his words, without turning his head, to a man who had just come in, and was gazing at him with unbounded astonishment.

"You here, Joe?" he said.

Joe started.

"Why, Chalker, who'd have thought to meet you in this music-hall?"

"It's a good step, isn't it? And what are you doing, Joe? I heard you'd left the P. and O. Company."

"Had to," said Joe. "A gentleman has no choice but to resign. Ought never to have gone there. There's no position, Chalker—no position at all in the service. That is what I felt. Besides, the uniform, you know, is not my style, is unbecoming. And the Captain was a Cad."

"Humph! and what are you doing then? Living on the old man again?"

"Never you mind, David Chalker," replied Joe with dignity; "I am not likely to trouble you any more after the last time I called upon you."

"Well, Joe," said the other, without taking offence, "it is not my business to lend money without security, and all you had to offer was your chance of what your grandfather might leave you—or might not."

"And a very good security, too, if he does justice to his relatives."

"Yes; but how did I know whether he was going to do justice? Come, Joe, don't be shirty with an old friend."

There was a cordiality in the solicitor's manner which belied well. Joe was pretty certain that Mr. Chalker was not a man to cultivate friendship unless something was to be got out of it. It is only the idle and rich who can waste time over unprofitable friendships. With most men friendship means assisting in each other's little games, so that every man must become, on occasion, tarnet, confederate and pal; for his friend, and may expect the same kindly office for himself.

If Chalker wished to keep up his old acquaintance with Joe Gallop there must be some good reason. Now the only reason which suggested itself to Joe at that moment was that Chalker had lately drawn a new will for the old man, and that he himself might be in it. Here he was wrong. The only reason of Mr. Chalker's friendly attitude was curiosity to know what Joe was doing and how he was living.

"Look here, Chalker," Joe whispered, "you used to pretend to be a pal. What's the good of being a pal if you won't help a fellow? You see my grandfather once a week or so; you shut the door and have long talks with him. If you know what he's going to do with his money, why not tell a fellow? Let's make a business matter of it."

"How much do you know, Joe, and what is your business proposal worth?"

"Nothing at all; that's the honest truth—I know nothing. The old man's as tight as wax. But there's other business in the world besides his. Suppose I know of something a precious sight better than his investments, and suppose—just suppose—that I wanted a lawyer to manage it for me."

"Well, Joe?"

"Encore! Bravo! Encore! Bravo!" Joe banged his stick on the floor and shouted because the singer ended her first song. He looked at Steve and bid that all the bystanders made haste to follow his example.

"Splendid, isn't she?" he said.

"Hang the singer! What do you think of my proposal?"

BABY DREAMS.

[Rya Garton Taylor in Inter Ocean.]

Want are thy dreams, sweet baby soul?
Whence that angel smile?
What forms more fair than mortal eyes
Have seen, thy sleep beguile?

Do angels watch thy baby heart
With tender all their own?
Or mother's voice weave in thy dreams
Its low, sweet accrosons?

Do memories of cloudless blue
Fill o'er thy baby soul
And visions of o'er arching green
Bid we thy fancy roll?

Art weaving webs of wondrous hue,
O precious baby mine?
Art gazing at fair, fadeless wreaths,
By angel fingers twined?

Come back to earth, sweet infant soul,
'Tis not so fair as Heaven;
But deeper love than mother's love
The angels have not given.

The songs of seraphim are sung;
The angels are most fair;
Heaven holds a world of fadeless joy—
But mother is not there.

FOOD FOR OLD PEOPLE.

Kind Varies with Condition—Origin of Many Dyspepsias—Electricity.

[Dr. L. H. Watson in Popular Science Monthly.]

The kind of food to be eaten varies with the condition. If an old person needs building up, the more nutritive foods, that is, those containing the greatest amount of nourishment to a given volume, the greatest proportion of assimilative matter. If, on the contrary, it is necessary to encourage the digestive action, we should select stimulating food. Coffee is a natural drink for the aged. Its mildly stimulating, soothing qualities directly indicate it as a beverage for the old. Gasparin tells us that coffee has the property of rendering elements of the body more stable, and thus, if not affording nourishment, it diminishes the wastes going on.

The origin of many dyspepsias in the old will be found in the lack of the proper means for the complete mastication of their food. The loss of their teeth will often sometimes remove dispeptic troubles of long standing. Mastication must be well performed, even if the food is not very solid. The one golden rule is to eat slowly.

Some old people have peculiar fancies about certain foods, which must not be overbooked. Milk is one of the most easily digested of foods, on account of its various constituents, and can be taken when nothing else is permissable. Eggs, soft boiled or raw, are easily digested. Oysters, fish and lamb follow in about the order named. Beef, mutton and fowls and wheaten bread occupy about the same time in digestion.

The two forms of dyspepsia most frequently met in old people are the acid form, where there is an excess of acid found in the stomach, and the atonic form, where there is a sluggish action of the mucous membrance of the stomach, and the time for digestion is greatly lengthened. In acid dyspepsia Dr. Ringer recommends the use of glycerine, stating that an old gentleman learning that glycerine prevented milk from turning sour, concluded that it would be just the thing to prevent himself from turning sour. Glycerine, combined with powdered charcoal, has achieved success in remedying this form of dyspepsia. Artificial acids immediately after meals, breaking up the weaker acids and affording the natural acids of the stomach, is an exceedingly useful remedy.

The atonic form of dyspepsia, combined with loss of appetite, requires a different treatment. The stomach is feeble and need stimulating. Two or three grains of capsicum, with one-half grain of aloes, in a capsule, will excite it to action. The constipation which often accompanies this form will be obviated. When there are accumulations of gas, charcoal tablets, an hour or two after meals, generally give relief, but it is not a good plan to keep up their use permanently, as it tends somewhat towards constipation.

Electricity is a great tonic for these debilitated, relaxed stomachs. The apathetic condition of the intestinal track is dissipated, the liver pours out its bile and the bowels to move on again. Alkalies taken before meals stimulate the flow of the gastric juice. Slight fatigue often spoils the appetite and lowers the digestive power.

Couldn't Eat Corn from a Cob.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

There was a little dinner party the other night, and the fresh cobs of smiling corn were very tempting. They were handed round. One young gentleman started reckonably to eat it from the cob. There was a kind of a lull all around the table. There was a little hesitancy about touching that corn. The young gentleman kept enjoying it immensely. This went on for a long time, and finally one lady took a bobbed lorgne cutting it off.

"I like to cut it off first with a knife," she said.

"So do I," said nearly everybody else, and good humor immediately reigned.

"I think corn tastes much better," said a man on the side of the table, "when you cut it. I never could eat corn from the cob."

"Nor I," was a little chorus.

"Besides, it does not look nice."

"No."

The young gentleman who had been eating it straight grew slightly uneasy. But a quiet fellow who was away at the other end said in a kind of a diving-bell voice: "I can't eat corn from the cob, either, because I've got two false teeth, and I can never tell the corn from the teeth."

And everybody got red in the face and laughed "ha, ha."

A $35,000 Painting.

[The Current.]

The picture by Meissonier called "The Violette," which recently brought $35,000 in Chicago, gets much of its distinction from being larger than most of the succes ful French painter's productions. The violette is on his horse, and the horse is enjoying facing the spectator. The picture of the animal is excellent—great—but strikes a western man as portraying a more valuable horse than any picket would be likely to want. The painting might be cut down to one to small dimensions, as it gets most of its compose through a background and sky which are devoid of the slightest interest, and could not have cost the artist an hour's work. The picture is made large on the theory, supposably, that a dramatic effect is produced by the baldness of the surroundings. It is a good theory for Meissonier, and has prevailed, it seems, in the artistic world.

A Georgia Snake Story.

[Eastern (Ga.) Journal.]

A coach whip was perched upon a limb in a tall tree. Perched upon another limb, thirteen feet above the snake, was a squirrel. All of a sudden the snake's head shot out like a streak of lightning and the squirrel but snapped the limb, three inches in diameter, in two. The limb, which held a nest containing eleven young hawks, fell to the ground, and the hawks were all caught down by the snake's mate, which was lying concealed at the foot of the tree.

Widows in Sitka.

[St. Louis.]

When a chief dies in Sitka his wives pass to his next heir, and unless these relicts purchase their freedom with blankets, they are united to their grandsons or nephews as a matter of course. Highspirited young females sometimes score their kinsfolks, and then there is war, all the widows remaining each an outrage on decency and established entiquette.

Invention of Linen Thread.

An invention which would be of great service here has just been patented by Mr. Hammond, of Belfast. It consists in the wheel of knee rests so as to prevent the pattering of yarn in any process in the linen trade. Though simple, it fulfils its purpose.

Questions Answered.

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly "some form of Hops!!!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all of the most eminent physicians:

"What is the only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women?"

And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically, "Hops!!!"

Ask the same physicians

What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague, &c.," and they will tell you

"Mandrake? or Dandelion!!!"

Pooh. When these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed, which is so varied in its operations that no disease or ill health can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is Harmless for the most frail woman, weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients"

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years, and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other kidney diseases, liver complaints, severe remarks called consumption, have been cured.

Women gone nearly crazy!!

From agony of neuralgia, sleeplessness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People driven out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory and chronic or suffering from scrofula

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia indigestion, and, in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is built to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

GRAND

Colonial Exhibition!

IN LONDON, ENGLAND, 1886.

Fifty-four Thousand Feet Reserved for Canada.

First Royal Exhibition Commission since 1862.

THE Colonial and Indian Exhibition to be held in London, England, commencing May 1st, 1886, is intended to be on a scale of great magnitude, being designed to show progress in the relations of all the parts of the British Empire with each other.

In order to give becoming significance to the event a Royal Commission is issued for the holding of this Exhibition, for the first time since the year of the Great Exhibition, in which Wales has been appointed President by Her Majesty.

The very large space of 54,000 square feet has been allotted to the Dominion of Canada by command of the President, His Royal Highness.

This Exhibition is to be purely Colonial and Indian, and no competition from the United Kingdom or from foreign nations will be permitted, the object being to exhibit to the world at large what the Colonies can do!

The grandest opportunity ever offered to Canada is thus afforded of making distinguished place its occupies, by the progress she has made in AGRICULTURE, in HORTICULTURE, in the INDUSTRIAL and FINE ARTS, in the MANUFACTURING INTERESTS, in the Natural Resources in MANUFACTURED MACHINERY and IMPLEMENTS, in PUBLIC WORKS by MODELS and DRAWINGS, also in an adequate display of her extensive forests in the Timbers and in FURRY and MINERAL wealth, and also in SHIPPING.

All Canadians of all parties and classes are invited to come forward and vie with each other in endeavoring on this great occasion to get Canada in her true place as the premier colony of the British Empire, and to establish her proper position before the world.

Every farmer, every producer, and every manufacturer, and every artisan, and every person, should contribute to the success of this great enterprise, which, if properly followed up, will be productive of great benefit to the Dominion.

Notice.

NOTICE is hereby

The Daily Times.

PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY.

Victoria, Friday, October 2, 1885.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

While the TIMES is always pressed to give publicity to the views of correspondents on any question of interest to the public, provided facts are given, couched in unobjectionable language, we wish it to be understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by the writers thereof.

Nor can we give room to duplicates of letters that have appeared in our contemporaries either in this city or elsewhere in the province. Correspondents, therefore, will save time and trouble in preparing such for THE TIMES, as they will be rejected.

Our space is valuable, and brevity, as far as possible, should be observed in writing on any topic, and on ONE SIDE of the sheet only.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Two Chinamen and two Japs were among the passengers this morning.

—Before purchasing Real Estate or insuring your life, see Rand Bros.

—Read the important notice of the Lansdowne House, and then examine the stock.

—Messrs. Transfield and Kincade have completed clearing the Alberni trail of fallen timber.

—The steamer Teaser will take her usual place on the New Westminster route this evening.

—Freight by Geo. E. Starr to-day: Gatman & Frank, Wm Turpel, J McLeod, Langley & Co, Hamilton Powder Co.

—The Teaser has been inspected by Mr. Vigor, and her boilers subjected to a pressure of 140 pounds. There was not the slightest leak.

—The holes in the concrete pavement in front of the post office are being repaired to-day. The postmaster is acting sensible in "mending his gear."

—Government street, between Johnson and Fort, is in a disgraceful condition. It is the worst, muddiest and roughest street in the city.

—Messrs. Dunsmuir, Angus, Hunter, and the other Victoria gentlemen who accompanied Sir Charles Tupper and party to Port Moody on the Alexander, returned to the city this afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Archer, the celebrated vocalists, will give one of their popular entertainments in the Theatre Comique on Saturday evening. They are well spoken of by those who have had the privilege of hearing them.

—The two Celestials run in last night by Officer Walsh for stealing apples, were shorn of their "pig-tails" by Mr. Hutcheson almost as soon as the gates of the city gaol had closed upon them. Mr. H. is an expert barber, and rather prides himself upon the "style" of his cuts.

—The city gaol to-day contains ninety-one prisoners—the largest number on record. It is now overflowing, and Mr. Hutcheson is anxious to know where he is going to put any more. He had better put the conundrum to the electors who voted against the barracks by-law. They ought to be prepared to answer it.

—The Methodist, First Presbyterian and Baptist churches will begin services next Sabbath evening at 6:30 instead of 7 as formerly, to give the congregations a chance to attend Mrs. Hampson's mission at the Theatre Comique at 7:30 p. m. All other churches interested in the mission are requested to do the same.

—Workmen are busily engaged preparing to add a story to the brick building now occupied by Marvin & Tilton. The additional room will be occupied by that firm for storing agricultural implements, etc. One of the coping stones on top of the building was found to be a tombstone, but the inscription is only legible in part.

—Letters for the following are held for postage: G E Corbould, New Westminster; W Langley, Ashcroft, B C; Winston Carter, Seattle, W T; Miss Wake, Esquimalt, B C; Miss M Pearce, city; Mrs R Roberts, Keefer's Island, V I; Miss E Emerson, New Dungeness, W T; Mrs D Pickard, Seattle, W T; Wah Hing Chong, Walla Walla, W T; Lun Shang & Co, Yale, B C.

—The Nanaimo people have a grievance. Last Saturday the Amelia took an excursion party to Maple Bay and then transferred the mails to the Dutsy, and they were not delivered at Nanaimo until midnight. Mr. Gordon has telegraphed to Ottawa, and has received a reply that the matter will be enquired into. The people of Victoria have a great many grievances of a somewhat similar nature but they are not "kickers." They would sooner be grievously imposed on than raise even a mild protest against a system that is respectable, only because of its age and its strict adherence to the methods of twenty years ago.

ANOTHER SMASH-UP.

A Number of Chinamen and Whites Killed and Wounded.

A telegram last night mentions an accident of a very serious character that occurred east of Kamloops. The construction train, coming from the end of the track to Kamloops, ran into a cow on the track, when the engine and several cars were derailed. Five Chinamen were killed and one white man, name unknown, and several others, whites and Chinese, were severely wounded. The cars and engine were badly smashed.

From Englishman's River.

The Free Press says that Messrs. A. Hirst and A Transfield arrived from Englishman's river on Sunday with some stock. In fording the river, which has been much swollen by the recent rains, the latter's horse was carried down by the current and drowned. Mr. Hirst's horse narrowly escaped the same fate. There are a good many settlers going on to the land between Englishman's river and French creek, and the necessity of a bridge across the river is being keenly felt.

Theatre Comique.

Mr. J. F. Pickering has assumed, for Mr. T. D. Cyr, the business management of the Theatre Comique. It is intended to open out on the 14th of October with a first class permanent company. Two nights per month will be devoted to comic opera, but all entertainments will be of a high order and so conducted as not to give the slightest offense to ladies or the most fastidious persons. The members will arrive by the Queen.

The Weekly Times

Was issued this (Friday) morning and copies can be procured at the office of publication and at the bookstores. As usual the latest news from all parts of the world up to the hour of going to press, as well as a replete epitome of the city and province news, will be found of great interest. "The monarch of the weekly" in this province is still extending its circulation and influence. It should be found in every house in the land.

Misses and Children's Autumn and Winter Mantles, 20 to 40 inches long, from $1 25 each, at the CITY HOUSE.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Edwin Johnson, Esq., S. M.)

AFTER THREE P. M. YESTERDAY.

Fan Tuk Teu, charged with unlawful possession of a cheque for $250, drawn by Mason & Daley, of Cache Creek, on the Bank of B. C., in favor of Mr. R. Vansuccello, resumed from 30th ult. Mr. Irving, D. A. G., appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Theo. Davie for the defence.

Mr. Ward, in his statement, said he thought the Chinaman being in possession of the cheque suspicious, and sent for a police officer and had him detained. From information now in my possession I believed the cheque to have been stolen. Evidence was produced sufficient to detain the prisoner, who was remanded for four days.

HOUSE BREAKERS.

Alfred Townsend and William Holloway, remanded from the 30th ult.

Sergt. Sheppard, sworn:—On Wednesday morning last, I arrested Alfred Townsend on board the steamer Eliza Anderson, charging him with breaking into a house on Superior street, James Bay, occupied by Mr. Worsfold. I charged him with stealing a silver watch, pistol and other articles. Prisoner admitted breaking into the house and having sold the watch in Seattle for $7; he afterwards said he gave away some studs and other things. He said that Wm. Holloway had the pistol. I subsequently saw Wm. Holloway in jail, and he made a statement in which he acknowledged being with Townsend and breaking into the house, and he got the pistol for his share, and that he sold the pistol to a boy named Miller for $2.50. I saw the boy Miller and he gave me the pistol; all these statements were made voluntarily.

Mr. Jas. Worsfold, sworn—I reside on Superior street, James Bay. I was away from the house during the day from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., and when I came home I found the kitchen window pried open, when I went into the house I found drawers open and found that the things mentioned in the information had been taken away; I don't know how they had gone. I identify the pistol as one of the articles taken. The value of it is $10. I have seen Townsend but never seen Holloway; I ordered groceries from Mr. Fell on that day; I was not at the house when they were delivered nor do I know who delivered them.

To the court—When I left the house in the morning I locked it, but Mr. Walker, a friend of mine, has a key also. From the appearance of the window, force had been used to open it. The house was broken into during my absence.

William Miller, sworn—I work in Kurtz's cigar factory; I know both the prisoners; I bought the pistol two weeks ago, in my room at the Royal Hotel from Wm. Holloway; gave $2 50 for it. He did not tell where he got it, nor did I ask him. The prisoner Townsend was in the room at the time. I did not see the watch nor anything else. There was only we three in the room; it was in the afternoon.

Miss Wald, sworn:—I live on King street; I know both of the prisoners; I came from Seattle on Saturday; I was there two weeks; I saw Townsend in Seattle; I saw the watch; it was a silver hunting case watch and had reversible cases; the watch did not look very new; he sold it to a pawnbroker on Commercial street; he got seven dollars for it. I was with him when he sold the hunting knife; it was an ordinary sheathknife; he told me that Wm. Holloway and he had broke into a house in James Bay and got the things there; he said he was near Fell's and saw a man go and order some meats and nice canned fruits; he followed the cart over the bay. He said that Holloway got the pistol and that he got the other things. He said they also took some fruit, a pair of silk socks and some steaks. He told me that Holloway had sold the pistol to Miller. He did not come back on the boat with me; he came after.

Mr. Worsfold, recalled: It was a silver Elgin watch with four ounce case. The inside was reversible; it could either be an open face watch or hunting cased. The hunting knife was new, stag horn handle and six-inch blade. The maker's name was stamped on blade, Howell & Son, Sheffield. It was in a sheath with strap and buckle attached. This closed the evidence for the prosecution.

Alfred Townsend, in defence, said: I landed in Seattle. I was there about half an hour and I met Frank Wald. I told him about my case, the way I was, and what I came over for. All right, he said, come with me. He walked around with me and took a look at the things. He told me he was working at the time. I left him that night at the corner where a restaurant was. About half an hour after he came running back, rushed into the room and said he was chased by some one off the Olympian, who wanted to take him to Victoria. He came to my room about six o'clock and we went out together. I gave him the knife and he tried to sell it in different shops in the town; then he said come down to the Indian camp; he sold the knife to an Indian. I took the money and we went up town and had something to eat. The next thing, he sold a piccolo; he got 50 cents for it from a man on the street. He knew all about the things and where they came; tried to sell them and had a share of the money. As soon as his money was done he came over here.

The prisoner Holloway had nothing to say in defense. The prisoners were committed to be tried at the next assizes, held at Victoria.

Ah Lee and Ah Yung, charged with stealing apples. Ah Yung pleaded guilty, and Ah Lee not guilty. Ah Yung said that the other prisoner Ah Lee was with him. Ah Yung was sentenced to one week's imprisonment, and Ah Lee to one month with hard labor.

Ah Lin, charged with stealing a wringer from the sidewalk in front of H. Laker's store. Sentenced to three months imprisonment with hard labor.

Frank Holloway and Alfred Townsend, charged with robbery from Mr. Morton's store on Government street, resumed from 30th ult. Prisoners were committed for trial at the next assizes.

The court then adjourned.

Provincial Appointments.

The following appointments have been gazetted:

Charles James Leggatt, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, to be Registrar-General of Titles, and Registrar of Joint Stock Companies for the Province.

Robert Hamilton, Esq., of Nicola, to be a Justice of the Peace for the Electoral District of Yale.

John Pattle, Esq., J.P., of Mayne Island, to be Assessor and Collector, under the Assessment Acts, and Collector of Provincial Revenue Tax, for those portions of the Electoral District of Cowichan known as Mayne, Galiano, Gossip, Reid, Prevost, Samuel, Saturna, Tumbo, Parker, and Narrow Islands.

Thomas Clive Atkinson, Esq., of New Westminster, Barrister-at-Law, to be a Notary Public for the Province.

Henry Nicholson, Esq., to be a Mining Recorder for the Rock Creek Polling Division of the Electoral District of Yale.

Just received OUR NEW FALL SHOW, comprising the VERY LATEST NOVELTIES in all departments, London House.

COUNTY COURT.

(Before Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J.)

THURSDAY, October 1.

Mah Lang Sue vs. Tai Chong and Bell, Larkin & Paterson. The plaintiff sued to realize a mechanics lien for work done under the Tai Chong contract, on the Island railway. The plaintiff had brought suit within the thirty days limit provided by the act 1879, and had registered a certificate thereof, but had failed to file a claim and affidavit in the Land Registry office within that time. It was insisted for the plaintiff that it was not necessary to file the claim referred to in section 4 of the act in order to preserve the lien; that the filing of a certificate that suit had been brought to realize the claim is all that is required by the act to preserve the lien. His Lordship sustained this position, but held that the plaintiffs should have joined the land-owner as a defendant, and having failed to do this the certificate of suit was insufficient, and the lien therefore expired.

The ruling that it is unnecessary to file a claim and affidavit is of general interest, because the mechanics hereafter will not be put to the expense of preparing a claim and affidavit, and of paying the land registry fee of $2 for filing the same as has been usually done heretofore.

Mr. Gamaway, of Drake, Jackson & Helmcken for plaintiff. The Attorney-General for defendants, Bell, Larkin & Paterson.

FRIDAY, Oct. 2.

De Wiederhold & Co. vs. Heathorn. The action was to recover $207.33, balance of account for bark delivered. The defendant admitted plaintiff's claim, but contended that a saw, owned by the defendant, had been damaged by the plaintiffs to the extent of $150; the balance of $137 33 had been paid into court. The judge decided—first, that it was necessary for to prove that plaintiffs were liable for negligence; second, that plaintiffs had been guilty of negligence; third, the amount of the damage sustained; and that as he had failed to prove any one of the three, judgment must be for plaintiff, but as he believed the defendant had acted in good faith, each party must bear his own costs. J. P. Walls for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Drake & Co. for the defendant.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Theo. Davie has gone to Kamloops.

Capt. W. R. Clarke, who has been ill for several weeks, has recovered.

Mr. C. Todd was a passenger to the mainland this morning.

Messrs. Pelletier and Blum have returned from a visit to the interior.

P. O. Chilstrom, Portland and H. Lefroy, Ireland, are at the Oriental.

Mr. Ewen, of the New Westminster cannery, returned home this morning.

Messrs. M. Baker, Isaac Van Volkenburg, and F. Reynolds went up to New Westminster to-day.

Mr. W. Buckingham, Chicago; Messrs. Sam Bawling, A Murphy and D. F. Krome, Minneapolis, are at the Driard.

Mr. Isador Schwarz and family who have been in the city for some time, left to-day on the Queen for San Francisco.

Mr. P. Murphy, of the Adelphi, left on the Queen to-day for San Francisco. He will spend the winter in Southern California.

D. S. Lavill, of Minneapolis; M. O'Toole, and Clyde Boynton, of Portland; John M. Atkinson, Butte City; E. McGrath, Seattle, and W. G. Poole, Boston, are at the Occidental.

Mr. R. B. Linton, representing H. A. Nelson & Sons, wholesale dealers in fancy goods, Toronto, arrived in the city yesterday. He made the trip from Winnipeg to Victoria in four days and sixteen hours—the fastest time of which there is any record.

Passengers to Victoria to-day by the Geo. E. Starr: Miss Watson, Weyman, H E Smith and wife, D LaBell, J Aikison, Durant and wife, M O'Toole—Mrs Coveen, Mrs Watson, A J Baker, A White, D Madigan, R Boynton, J Taylor, J Q Clark, W Buckingham, Chas Wyld, Geo. Lansing, Mrs J Levy, Miss Baslim, Jamison, H Lobse, O Rouke and son, Tanner, Guest.

MARINE NOTES.

The ship Spartan has been chartered by Welch, Rithet & Co., and will sail for China about the 17th inst., carrying about 350 returning Celestials.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Arrived—City of Richmond.

HAMBURG, Oct. 2—Arrived—Phartia.

Peculiar Passengers.

Oregonian: Captain James Carroll, of the Idaho, has a wide reputation as one of the most suave, polite and gallant of commanders. He is especially thoughtful and careful concerning ladies who travel on board his ship, and has been presented with complimentary addresses and other compliments innumerable. But once in a while he finds a lady among his passengers who takes the wind out of his sails completely. He tells with much gusto how one of them cowhided him on board his own ship a year or two ago, because when she came alongside in a boat and would not come on board, he ordered the tackles hooked on and the boat and lady hoisted on board together. He had another crack on his last trip down. He treated her with the greatest politeness, but without winning her good will, and she found that he and his purser were registered at the Gilliam yesterday, she quit the house, saying she would not walk the same floors with two such vagabonds. So Captain Carroll is not now hankering for authoresses or literary women of any kind as passengers.

Outgoing Passengers.

The Queen sailed to-day for San Francisco with the following from Victoria: Miss Martin, Mrs McCulley, Miss Rankin, Robt Cosne and wife, Father Mitropolsky, wife and 3 children, Miss Kasharatuff, Miss Alexander, Miss Miga Kenia and H Mitropolsky, P Murphy, Mrs M A Mohaunx, Miss Ida B Steve, Henry Heffrath, Miss Frank, Miss Ambey, Miss Frank, Miss Curtisse, Mr Stoddard, Mr Arthur, Mr Tinner, Mr Collis, Mrs A Gleason and child, Mrs A McCaw, Sam McLean, Mrs Stirling, Olaf Windingstad, William Benton, J Schwartz wife and 2 children, Henry Cook, Wm Lukey, Mrs T B Hodge, Jas McLean, Mrs C McLean and 2 children, Miss A M McLean, J R Sayer, J H McInnes and son, and 71 in the steerage.

A Valuable Cargo.

British bark Hermine, Captain S. J Jones, under charter to Robert Ward & Co., cleared today for London with a cargo of 21,949 cases of canned salmon, wool, etc., valued at $111,242 50. Shippers: Robert Ward & Co., 8000 cases salmon, Ewen's "Lion" brands, 2 cases personal effects; Welch, Rithet & Co., 3265 cases salmon, Wellington; 2600 cases salmon, Laidlaw's brands, and 2300 cases salmon, Delta Canning Co.; Turner, Beeton & Co., 5444 cases salmon, Inverness; Findlay, Durham & Brodie, 38 bales of wool, 2 cases earthenware; B. C. Junior, 7 bales blankets.

The Scott Act.

The County of Peterborough, Ontario, last week adopted the Scott Act by a majority of 270. There seems to be no stopping to the temperance tide that is steadily drawing over the east.

Victoria the Pacific Terminus.

Mr. A. Bunster, ex-M. P., of 39 Sutter street, San Francisco, late of this city, writes a letter to the Alta, California, and corrects a number of statements made by Mr. W. D. Henshaw Ward in an interview, in regard to the vexed question of the terminus. Mr. Bunster takes strong ground in favor of Victoria, and argues that the Island Railway, now approaching completion, along with the through trunk line, will be utilized for the purpose of making our city the terminus; by means of steam ferrying across the cars at Seymour Narrows. Esquimalt harbor will be the ocean harbor and Victoria will be the practical terminus for all time to come.

The Missing Schooner San Diego.

The schooner San Diego, missing from Alaskan seas, homeward bound, is owned by Handy & Co., 32 Clay street, San Francisco. She was spoken on the 24th August last in Behring sea. At that time she had on board a full cargo of seal skins consigned to the captain of the craft. Since the above date she has not been spoken, but marine men, well acquainted with northern waters, believe she to be safe, having put into some harbor or anchorage.

Foot Ball.

A practice game of foot ball will be played at Beacon Hill to-morrow afternoon. Sides will be chosen on the ground, and a good game may be expected. All those interested are requested to be in attendance, as the team that will be chosen to play against H. M. Navy will be selected from among the players present. The ball will be kicked off at 3:30 p. m., sharp.

The Governor-General.

From reliable information we are enabled to state that His Excellency the Governor-General will arrive at Port Moody on next Monday night, and in Victoria on Tuesday about noon. The committee charged with perfecting arrangements for the reception of the distinguished visitor will have to be active in the meantime.

Sufferers from the effects of quinine used as a remedy for chills and fever, will appreciate Ayer's Ague Cure, a powerful tonic bitter, composed wholly of vegetable substances, without a particle of any noxious drug. Its action is peculiar, prompt, and powerful, breaking up the chill, curing the fever, and expelling the poison from the system, yet leaving no harmful or unpleasant effect upon the patient.

My daughter has taken the medicine faithfully, according to directions, and her health and spirits are now perfect. The humor is all gone from her face. I wish every anxious mother might know what a blessing Ayer's Sarsaparilla is in such cases.

Messrs. Goldie and McCulloch, of Galt, Ont., have shipped for Leeds, Eng., a ponderous machine known as the "Patrick & Wilson Paragon Patent Cloth Press."

Prince Waldemar has an income of $17,500, and the Princess Marie, whom he will marry Oct. 22nd, has $20,000 a year and $5,000,000 in prospect.
